

Meet our Director!

Marilee Anderson says she has been enthralled by handbells since the first time she heard them: "I knew this was a calling." Over the years, she has played in several handbell groups, but her passion is directing, sharing,

"I love when a piece comes together and the story told in the music comes to life." Why is Marilee's Morkie called Berklee? Who is the newest love in Marilee's life? Inquiring minds will find answers at bellsofthebluffs.org.

Igniting Passion for Handbells

Join us making history as we ring with 700 others to put the world's largest handbell ensemble in the Guinness Book of World Records! This event is Saturday, November 19, with a performance at 11 a.m., in the Mall of America Rotunda. We'll be ringing "Silver Carol", written especially for this event by internationally known composer and arranger Hart Morris.

New Bells!

We're ringing our new C3, C#3 and D3 bells! "It's all about the bass!" said Scott Halvorson. "It's nice to complete the score," he explained. Before we received the new bells, we may not have been able to perform all the notes as intended by the composer or arranger. We'd like to complete the set and purchase 4 more bass bells (D#3, E3, F3, F#3). And you can help! Every bit is appreciated--just click on this link:
